

Thank you to everyone who joined us for the 30th annual HYPACK Hydrographic and Dredging Training Event. HYPACK 2023 was held in Panama City Beach, Florida on January 9th-12th, 2023. We are excited to announce that we had over 350 people register for the training!

During the event we revealed the newest version of our software, HYPACK® 2023. Attendees were the first to receive training on these new features. Not only did the HYPACK Training Event offer essential instruction in hydrographic and dredging applications, it also provided an opportunity for attendees to network with others and view exhibits from industry-leading hardware vendors, equipment resellers, and service providers. Our goal at HYPACK is to provide companies with the tools needed to succeed and give them an advantage in this industry.

HYPACK offered 37 training sessions that focused on comprehensive instruction in HYPACK®, DREDGEPACK® and HYSWEEP® software. We provided sessions for those who are just beginning to use HYPACK® as well as expert sessions for more in-depth training on a particular subject. Throughout the event we also offered live-streamed demos in the classroom.

Along with training sessions, we held our annual Q&A session. Our panel of experts answered both pre-selected and random audience questions. This was a great opportunity for attendees to have direct access to the HYPACK Team to further their knowledge of our products and solutions. In addition to our Q&A, the event also offered one-on-one sessions throughout the three days. Attendees were able to set up time with our tech support personnel and programmers to assist with project-specific questions.

Our exhibit space had 29 exhibitors who joined us for our 30th annual training event. The exhibit hall was a place for attendees to network and learn more about the different products and services our exhibitors offered. The exhibit hall was filled during our ice breaker event, reception, and during all the mini breaks throughout the day.
